GLHN ARCHITECTS & ENGINEERS, INC. SELECTS NEW CHIEF OPERATIONS OFFICER

NEW COO WILL GUIDE GROWTH AND EXPANSION WITH AN EMPHASIS ON CONTINUED EXCELLENCE IN CUSTOMER SERVICE

TUCSON, AZ (July 29, 2013)— GLHN Architects & Engineers, Inc. announces the appointment of Robert M. Lamb as Chief Operations Officer. Lamb, who was selected for the position after an extensive nationwide search, will guide development of the employee-owned firm as it expands geographically later this year to open an office in Flagstaff and as it transitions to the next generation of leadership. He will be accountable to the Board of Directors for operations, finance, and business development, while the management team focuses its efforts on technical excellence and staff development.

Lamb joins GLHN as the firm celebrates its 50th anniversary in 2013. GLHN President William Nelson, PE said, "We're a growing firm meeting the challenges of expansion and significant technological advancements in our industry. Lamb's expertise will introduce a fresh perspective to our operations to guide us into the next 50 years."

"I am proud to be joining a firm with an outstanding national reputation spanning five decades of excellent customer service", said Lamb. "GLHN is a leader in BIM (Building Information Modeling), providing a strong systems approach to deliver best-in-class integrated solutions for its customers. I look forward to building on the strong customer-focused culture that has been a key to GLHN's success."

Lamb earned a BS in Mechanical Engineering and an MBA from the University of Michigan. He has over 20 years of career experience in strategic market development, operations, program management, and executive team development for global corporations. Lamb and his family relocated to Tucson from Ann Arbor, Michigan five years ago, and are active in local community and church activities.
